

State of South Carolina

Governor's Proclamation

WHEREAS, South Carolina's senior citizens are an invaluable resource, contributing a wide range of knowledge and experience that benefits the quality of life of families and communities across the Palmetto State; and

WHEREAS, our state's seniors have lived through major historical events and technological advances, and their unique perspective is of untold value; and

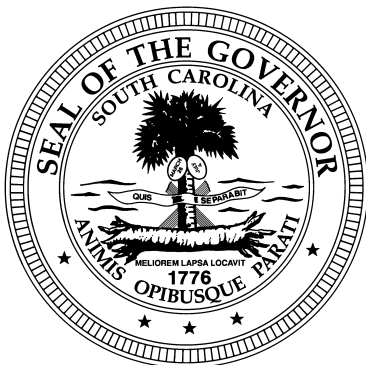

WHEREAS, in recalling the many profound changes that have occurred in the lives of man, we can greatly benefit from the shared wisdom of our seniors who are truly legends in their own time; and

WHEREAS, during Church and Community Living Legend Day, residents of Greenville will come together to recognize senior South Carolinians for their many contributions to our quality of life.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Mark Sanford, Governor of the Great State of South Carolina, do hereby proclaim October 12, 2006, as

throughout the state and encourage all South Carolinians to celebrate and honor our seniors for their many contributions to the people and communities of the Palmetto State.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Mark Sanford", is written over a horizontal line.
